Linda Mc Grew

Linda,

Best of Luck to my best friend and guide. I'll never forget your wonderful personality. Remember all the crazy things we did and how we caused trouble. Never forget that Talent Show. Now that you have graduated, I may never see you again. Linda, I hope you get everything you want and deserve in life. Keep your winning smile. Don't forget to write and when you get home come and see me. Thanks for your guidance and help. You're a great piano player, I may take over your job next year, but I can't do as well. Well, this is it so I'll say "goodbye Linda" and

Farewell,
Carol Orr

Dear Linda,

Well here we are ready to graduate.
During the four years I have known you, you have been a wonderful girl and good friend. Never forget the fun and laughs we have had.
I wish you all the success in the world at Wooster. May the future increase our friendship. Eh bien.

Dimensions. According to Webster, the word dimensions refers to the measurement, magnitude or scope of an object. If we were to apply this to learning, what would be its bounds? Could we apply limits into which all phases of learning are contained? In our educational structure we come in contact with the learning process in many ways; through our formal curricular offerings we gain formal, definitive knowledge. However, our extra-curricular activities also contribute heavily to the advancement of learning. The complete student comes in contact with many types of experiences during his school life. Each contributes toward the final goal of knowledge. It is our aim to develop this idea and to express the many ways in which the students of Riverside received a formal education and along with it the tools to understand the world in which they live through the maze of activities in which they took part.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES PROVIDED RELIEF

Maturity beckons the individual to ascend the ladder of society and create for himself a social status. Society offers infinite opportunities and is the cultivating ground of the mind and the body. Education introduces the student to his social world — a world of plenty if used properly to its every advantage.

ATHLETICS STIMULATED THE DESIRE

Conditioning the body is as essential as developing the mind. To function properly man needs to be physically sound; this may result from a planned program or from his favorite form of active recreation. Being healthy allows man to pursue his interests with complete concentration. If sustained, these two—a sound body and a sound mind—allow man to live in better harmony with his environment.

PURSUIT OF KNOWLEDGE FOLLOWED

Man has a fundamental desire to learn — a desire that grows and matures with his whole being. In his quest for knowledge, man encounters barriers that may divert his course; but as his determination intensifies, he finds these obstacles falling away. We of the new generation are often confronted with difficulties while attempting to satisfy our minds. But these efforts are not in vain, for we, as students, are just beginning the long walk down the path of knowledge toward a greater intellect.

Man has attempted to satisfy his inner desires for creativity in the fine arts since the beginning of time. Society serves as his reference source, for it is the force which shapes and sustains the acceptable and non-acceptable methods through which he can express himself. In our culture the maze of ideals and values confronting man stimulates and augments his quest for living peaceably in his psychological and social environment.

DEDICATION

It is with a sense of gratitude and deep appreciation that we, the Class of 1965, dedicate this edition of the Pathfinder to Mr. Robert Frederick. In constant pursuit of excellence, he has permanently endeared himself to the students and faculty of Riverside.

One cannot know Mr. Frederick without experiencing a profound admiration for his astuteness and gentlemanly qualities. With a subtle sense of humor and more than enough patience and understanding, he is an inspiring teacher, a wise counsel and a respected friend.

FACULTY

Blessed with a conscientious and capable faculty we were able to effect great strides toward our educational goals. Their individualism in background, personality and presentation added a pleasant variety to our rich and rewarding learning experiences.

Northeastern Beaver County's School Board can well be proud of its record through the years. Led by its guiding hands, new facilities were constantly added to meet the growing needs of the community. Their insight into the future has given everyone connected with this district goals to strive for and standards to uphold. One example of their proficiency was the capable handling of the large undertaking set forth when the decision was made to build a new addition to Riverside. The results of their constant planning are evident in the present educational system.

The monumental task of handling the business of the district was in the capable hands of Mrs. Grandey and Mrs. Hall.

ADMINISTRATION

During the twelve years Mr. Shaffer has been at Northeastern Beaver County, our school district has progressed rapidly. Under his fine supervision, Riverside was planned, built, and enlarged. The faculty and curriculum have also increased under his direction. His accomplishments are an excellent example of his dedication to the task of preparing youth for responsible citizenship.

LESLIE H. MARIETTA, B.S., M.S.
Principal

Mr. Marietta, our principal, and Mr. Krepps, our assistant principal, can be accredited with the smooth operation of each school day. Both spent many long hours planning for this school year, making schedules and organizing the entire program of events. These two capable leaders endeavored to help the student in any way possible, as no problem was too small to come to their attention. A sense of responsibility and a determined will to see things completed demonstrated how adroit these two leaders were in their duties.

GUIDANCE

"What shall I do when I graduate?" "Shall I go to college?" "Where will I acquire funds for school?" These were all problems facing each student before graduation. Through informal discussions with competent guidance counselors during our high school career, we were able to make numerous decisions affecting our future. The assistance received from the understanding and morale building men in the guidance department proved invaluable.

SECRETARIES

Efficient secretarial personnel were on hand throughout the year to assist the administration and faculty in performing their functions. Their services were also available to the student body when the need arose. The staff, composed of Mesdames Boots, Ferringer, Miller and Thompson was ever important in the maintenance of various high school records and in other school operations.

READING

Opening the door to adventure, intrigue, and romance, reading offers new horizons that would ordinarily be beyond our reach. Guiding their students through the wonderful world of literature, the reading teachers played an important part in the lives of their young pupils. Through reading, these youthful apprentices received lessons in the values of life, while also gaining enjoyment from their pursuit.

HOME ECONOMICS

Riverside girls will be thankful in the future for the valuable skills learned in their Home Economics classes. The many facets of preparing food for consumption were explored extensively. In addition, students acquired the knack of changing fabrics into durable wearing apparel. Other areas which are also vital in the successful operation of a home were likewise taken into consideration during the course of the school year. These young women are certainly well prepared for tomorrow's world of homemaking.

SCIENCE

Science offers many opportunities to the young scholars of this generation, but to gain a career one must first have a firm understanding of the basic fundamentals concerning this study. General Science and Biology serve as the basis for Chemistry, Advanced Biology, and Physics, each of which are important in our advancing society. At Riverside a student could plan a future in any of the sciences and, from competent teachers, receive a sound education which would leave him well prepared to enter the competitive world.

ART

Developing creative ability in its struggling young artists was the foremost goal of the art department. Under the capable direction of Mr. Freshcorn, this was demonstrated in the many eye catching exhibits placed throughout the school and community. By devoting their time and talents to creating posters and scenery, the members of the art department were the recipients of much appreciation throughout the school year.

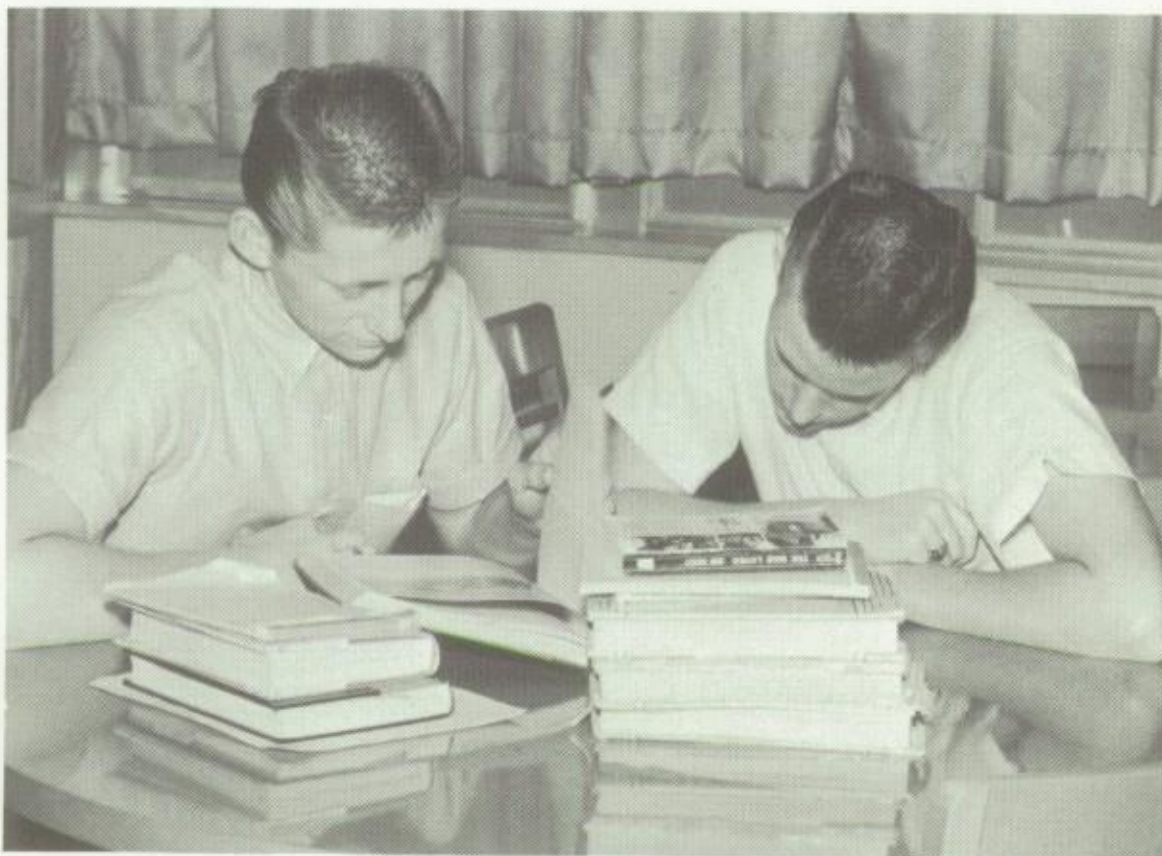

The art room provided an opportunity for self-expression.

LIBRARY

One great servitor to education will always be the library. The ever expanding library at Riverside administered literary aid to a large majority of the students this year. A place of quietude, the library's purpose was to offer reference materials consisting of encyclopedias, fiction and non-fiction books, magazines, and newspapers to knowledge-seeking individuals.

Students often utilized the quiet atmosphere of the library for academic purposes. Bill Koach and Mike McCullough.

MUSIC

Music has long been used by man as a means of self-expression. In class, students cultivated the ability to discover the moods a composer placed in his works by studying the styles of many well-known artists, and developed the competence to convey vocally the emotions of a song by learning the many terms and symbols associated with music.

ENGLISH

English has been, is at present, and will continue to be the basis for most of the education in our schools. In the English classes an attempt was made to teach us to communicate our ideas to others through writing and speaking. The fundamentals of grammar, also of great importance in most endeavors, were stressed over and over again by conscientious teachers. A better understanding of the world and the people in it was gained through the study of the works of such famous authors as Twain, Dickens, and, of course, the immortal Shakespeare. Students were taught to think for themselves and to formulate their own opinions of life. These opinions, discussed at length when brought up through reading, were tossed around and final opinions gave the individual pupil a chance to set values for himself. A basic knowledge of English and Literature will always be of use in our lives.

Mr. Ellenich demonstrates the art of changing a tire to Sandy Lumley and Judy Stratton.

DRIVER EDUCATION

Although driving an automobile is not considered an art, it requires numerous skills. The juniors learned the proper operation of a vehicle in the Driver Education classes taught by Mr. Ellenich. Requirements for this half-credit course included thirty hours of classroom study, six hours of behind-the-wheel driving, and an examination at the conclusion of the semester. After studying correct driving procedures and important facts pertaining to Driver Education, the students became more alert and better motorists.

MEDICAL SERVICES

Always there when needed, the medical staff helped many an ailing student through the day. The familiar odor of medications and the consoling air of recovery greeted many as they strode through the door of the health suite. Capable attendants cared for various aches and pains, whether real or imaginary. Their services also included a multitude of health examinations such as physicals, eye and ear tests, and dental exams.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Creativity of the mind and dexterity of the hands were the most satisfactory outcomes of the Industrial Arts course this year. The boys reasoned for themselves, made decisions, and performed the work required of them. With excellent instruction from skilled teachers, the young novices learned the techniques involved in drafting, carpentry, and machine operation. This background gained will be an advantage to our future men in industry.

SOCIAL STUDIES

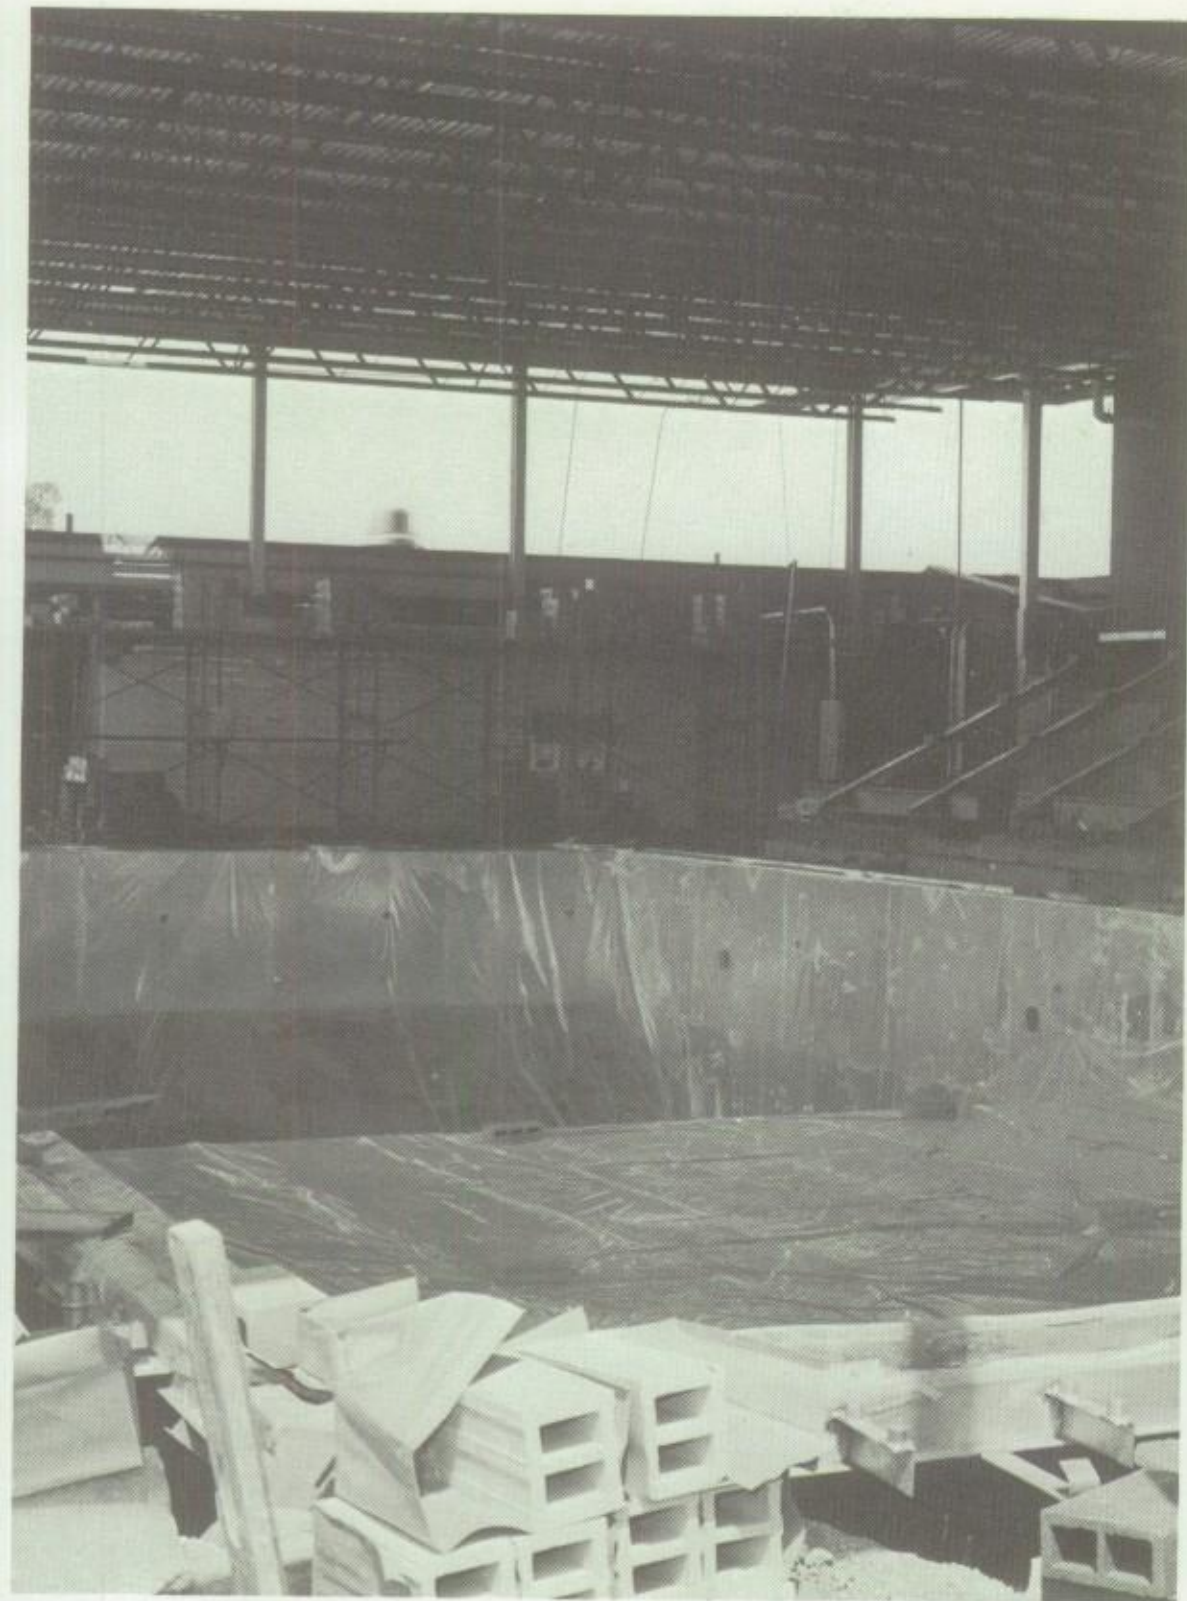

Understanding the functions of a democracy and possessing knowledge of our country's history are essential in the education of every American. At Riverside a well rounded program of American History, World Cultures, Pennsylvania History, and Economics, plus a comprehensive study of democracy, its goals and problems, gave each student a sound understanding of his country and the world in which he lives.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

With greater emphasis on physical fitness lately, the need for physical education classes has been stressed. At Riverside, students learned the value of physical exercise while enjoying a refreshing variation from the mentally exhausting work of the day. Improvements were evident in such sports as basketball, volley ball, and soccer. One highlight for the boys was the obstacle course. On the other side of the curtain, the girls were actively engaged in an introduction to modern dance.

Murder ball was one of the more active segments of the boys' gym program.

Students spent anxious moments from September to April anticipating the completion of the pool.

The whirl of an election year prompted many classroom debates. Mr. Lindeman picks a winner for Jim Dripps and Mark Jones.

Girls mastered the skills of volley ball through class period games.

MATHEMATICS

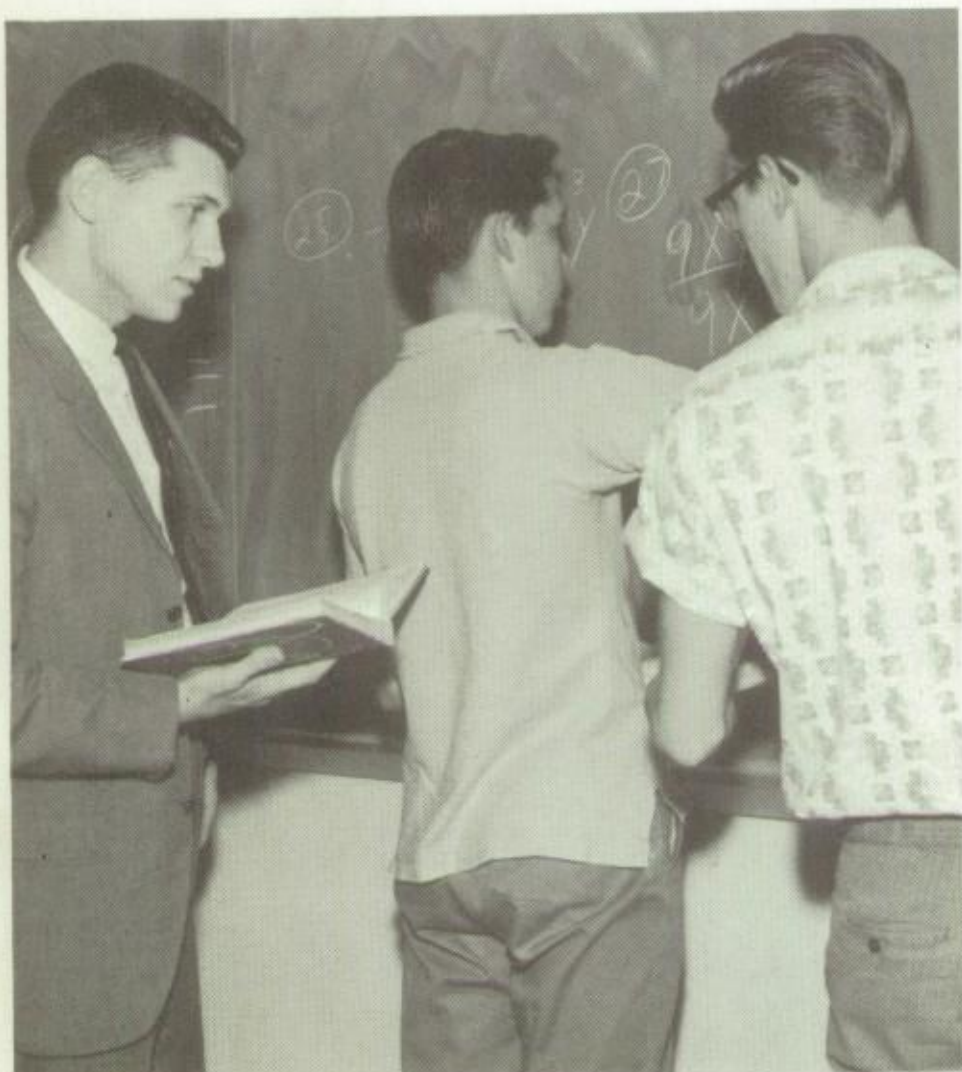

Instilling into each student the ability to perform basic and complex operations was the goal of the mathematics department this year. General math supplied the fundamentals, but because math is the language of science, excelled courses were necessary to fulfill the needs of the science-minded student. Riverside provided a diversified program which helped each student to prepare for the future by offering courses in Business Math, Algebra, Plane Geometry, and Trigonometry. This program, plus an outstanding teaching staff, gave each student a sound mathematical background.

HEALTH

To be healthy one must know the fundamentals of good hygiene and the basic make-up of the human anatomy. This leads to a better understanding and regard for the soundness of the body. Through the health courses, the students were led along this path of knowledge. Textbooks, models, and films were used to enlighten the mind on the subject of health and its many sub-topics. Having learned a multitude of information concerning their bodies, happier and healthier individuals were created during the course of the year.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Through foreign language study, many students gained an understanding of their neighbors around the world. Having mastered the grammar of Latin, French, or Spanish, the students then learned to speak fluently. The capable staff utilized the new language laboratory as well as visual aids so that scholars were also able to become acquainted with the culture associated with their language.

COMMERCIAL

Preparing themselves for the aggressive world of business, commercial students mastered the many skills needed to compete in the teeming world before them. The many new facilities made available to those students in the past year were worthwhile in making their goals more easily accessible. Typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, office practice—these were all steps in the long ladder to a successful career in business.

CUSTODIAL STAFF

Keeping Riverside in top condition throughout the year was the job of our custodial staff. Providing heat in the winter, scrubbing and waxing floors, cleaning the school's many windows—these were only a few of their numerous chores. In addition, they could be counted on to be there in an emergency or simply to lend a helping hand.

CAFETERIA STAFF

Familiar faces to everyone at Riverside were those of the cafeteria staff. These capable women handled the task of providing pleasing, well-balanced meals every day with the ease of experienced chefs. Serving the food with speed and a smile made the cafeteria a well frequented place. Much praise and admiration go to Mrs. Logsdon and her staff for their fine work in our cafeteria.

ORGANIZATIONS

Having a variety of choices, Riverside students strongly supported the activities program. Organizations ran the gamut from strictly service to fun groups, all leading to the end result of broadening the concept of cooperation and understanding between the individual and his peers.

DIMENSIONS OF LEADERSHIP AND

Student Council gave students the opportunity to share in governing themselves.

SR. TRI HI-Y

Members of the Senior Tri Hi-Y were kept very busy this year working on projects to help others and to extend Christian character throughout the community. During Christmas the girls made and bought gifts for the children in the Beaver County Children's Home. By sponsoring a bake sale the club raised money to give to the World Service, an organization which establishes Y's in foreign countries. Highlighting the year was the Spring Spectacular. For this event, girls from Tri Hi-Y groups located throughout Central-Western Pennsylvania met in Butler to compete in such fields as sports, art, and speech.

The Senior Tri Hi-Y induction service was carried out with a simple yet impressive candlelight ceremony.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS

Being a housewife is more complicated than one imagines; therefore, every girl should learn the essentials of becoming an efficient homemaker. This was the task which the Future Homemakers of America very adequately accomplished this year. Stimulating meetings gave the girls a better understanding of the many talents a homemaker needs in our bustling modern-day communities. Two services performed by this club were participation in the Christmas food drive and sponsorship of Good Grooming Week.

Packing food for needy families was one activity of the Future Homemakers.

LIBRARY CLUB

Acting as assistant librarians to Mrs. Huling, the members of the Library Club gained valuable information while doing a service for their fellow classmates. Checking out books, straightening the shelves, placing current magazines and newspapers on the proper racks, and preparing new books for general use were just a few of the many tasks performed by these helpful students. These tasks were made easier by the many new improvements in the library this year. In appreciation of their services, the annual spring tea, honoring the graduating seniors, was held at the end of the year.

FUTURE TEACHERS

The Future Teachers of America, in trying to fulfill its purpose, was very active during this past year. Guest speakers provided programs oriented to give members a greater perspective of their chosen field. In addition, the club helped sponsor various all-school activities and continued with its publication of the News Letter which was sent to alumni. By attending conferences and observing teachers in the classroom, they received a glimpse of what their chosen profession holds in store for them.

Guest speakers, such as Mr. E. B. McNitt, former superintendent of New Brighton School District, acquainted club members with the scope of a career in teaching.

SENIOR HI-Y

Boys are active, and there is no better way to be active than in a worthwhile, organized group. The Senior Hi-Y functioned as such a group. Intramural basketball games, gym nights, and bowling parties provided a continuous flow of activity for Hi-Y members. Movies and discussions were an integral part of the organizational meetings. Early in the year two members were sent as representatives to Harrisburg to take part in a legislative assembly of all Hi-Y chapters in Pennsylvania.

ELECTRIC CLUB

Two of the functions of the Electric Club this year were providing the opportunity for students to learn how to operate audio-visual equipment and to create a common environment in which club members could discuss their similar interests. Showing movies for classes and setting up microphones for assemblies were only two of the many services the club contributed to the school. The big event of the year was designing and constructing the annual Christmas display which was imaginative as well as beautiful.

JUNIOR HI-Y

Providing Christian recreation and fellowship for boys of the Junior High School was the main activity of the Junior Hi-Y at Riverside. Their program dealt with the study of life problems found in the social, intellectual, physical and political areas of the world. These problems were discussed under the supervision of Mr. Downing through the use of Teen Talk magazine.

HOBBY CLUB

Members of Riverside's Hobby Club were kept very busy in their leisure time working at their hobbies. These interests centered mainly around the designing and building of model cars. They boosted their club financially by sponsoring a car wash and a dance. Under the capable direction of Mr. Davison, the boys had many projects ready for their annual hobby show.

SCIENCE SOCIETY

Functioning under a new constitution and a new name — Riverside Science Society — the renovated Science Club gave students a better opportunity to cultivate their interests in the dynamic world of science. Taking field trips to local industries and other places of scientific interest was one of the activities of this group. The Society also strove to instill in the minds of its members the importance of science, and to give them the initiative to further their knowledge of this study. This was partially accomplished through demonstrations at monthly meetings and projects presented by the members.

Society members often used their spare time to work on experiments. Bill Contino, Mike Kuzma, Dale Newton, and Mr. Whetsel pool their resources to solve a force problem.

FUTURE NURSES CLUB

The Future Nurses Club endeavored to aid young adults in deciding their future careers. By participating in the volunteer programs at the Beaver Valley General Hospital, the girls were able to see first hand what the life of a nurse is like. This experience, meetings with excellent speakers, and guidance by Mrs. Kalcevic enabled the girls to reach their first milestone toward nursing.

Riverside's Senior High Student Council worked to further the worthy ideals of scholarship, citizenship, leadership, and sportsmanship; and promoted better relations among students, faculty, and administration. Some of their worthwhile projects were managing the bookstore and the information desk, and sponsoring a clothing drive and a United Fund drive. This organization was indeed one to be proud of throughout the year.

JR. HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL

The primary interests of the Junior High Student Council were to promote better relations between the students in grades seven through nine. It did this by seeking to provide all students with the right of expression. Having a voice in their school government created a closer rapport between the students and administration and provided an experimental background in democracy for the youthful participants.

VARSIITY "R" CLUB

Purchasing jackets, sweaters, blazers, and letters was one activity which proved to be quite a challenge to the Varsity "R" Club. To raise money for these awards, this group, composed of boys who had lettered once in varsity athletics and girls who had lettered once in cheerleading, sold refreshments at home basketball games and cider in the Fall. Other fund raising events they sponsored were the annual Halloween Hoe Down and the Christmas Dance, both of which fulfilled the purpose while giving students two very delightful evenings of fun.

The beauty of the Christmas dance, "Starlight and Snowflakes," was the result of hard work and imagination. Frank Brenner and Butch George.

NATIONAL THESPIANS

"Act your part well, there the honor lies." This motto permeated each member of Troupe 2501. The Thespians managed everything backstage for both class plays. This included stage crew, prompting, make-up, and even publicity. Also, throughout the year various club members presented monologues, skits, and readings for organizations throughout the community.

DEBATE TEAM

Under the supervision of Mr. Bowers, Riverside's first debate team was formed this fall. Much of the infant team's activity was centered around the primary job of organization. Debates were confined to intra-club competition; the participants, ranging from freshmen to seniors, gained valuable experience which will aid them in later interschool debating. The sixteen members of this group, through their use of forensics, worked to master the abilities of on the spot logical thinking and of speaking fluently before an audience.

Debates within the club educed confidence and ability from the new debaters.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Members of the National Honor Society embody the ideals of scholarship, leadership, service and character. Sponsoring the first movie-dance at Riverside was an activity through which they raised money for pins and certificates for new members. These new members from the junior and senior classes were inducted at a formal ceremony in February.

Making bibs for the McGuire Memorial Children's Home at Christmas time was one of the projects of the Junior Tri-Hi-Y this past year. This club enabled the girls of the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades to work together for a better Christian community and world. Acting in this spirit of fellowship also served to develop the personal character of the girls.

SENIOR ART CLUB

Instilling in its members a sense of creativity, the Art Club worked to further their talents and increase their understanding and appreciation of fine art. While laboring at their works of art, these young Rembrandts also found time in their schedules for lectures on various subjects from make-up artistry to portrait painting. They also took field trips to professional exhibitions and to industries where art is much in evidence. The annual spring exhibit and the Art Club banquet for the presentation of awards were two highlights of the club's activities this year.

JUNIOR ART CLUB

Paving the way for future years, the Junior Art Club endeavored to steer its members along the path of success in their field of interest. By taking various field trips, they were able to see the values of art. Their efforts and abilities were seen in the Christmas display in the high school lobby. Working hand in hand with the Senior Art Club, the Junior Art Club took part in the annual exhibit and banquet. This co-operation served as a preparation for the time when they, too, would be Senior Art Club members.

The Junior Art Club display added a holiday atmosphere to the lobby.

SENIOR G.A.A.

Sports tournaments were sponsored by the Senior Girls Athletic Association to cultivate sportsmanship simultaneously with a competitive spirit. Members were able to earn awards by participating in the activities of the club. The focal point of the year was the dinner in the latter part of May at which the awards were presented.

JUNIOR THESPIANS

Throughout the year, the Junior Thespians endeavored to entertain the student body by enacting plays and educational programs. At the same time, the members prepared themselves for membership in National Thespians and learned the principles of poise, diction, enunciation and responsibility. An example of their work was the fine presentation of "Who Killed Ann Gage."

Organized to stimulate the interests of the junior high girls in sports, the Junior Girls Athletic Association conducted several tournaments. These tournaments and after school activities, under the direction of Miss Albert, promoted sportsmanship and developed leadership qualities. The volley ball competition held during the winter was the focal point of the year's events.

MUSIC

Music, the universal language, held an important place in the Riverside curriculum. With approximately 500 students participating, the instrumental and vocal music departments contributed very strongly to the school's cultural aspect.

SENIOR BAND

Following the tradition of past years the Panther Band upheld the name of Riverside by winning a host of first place prizes in competitive parades and by delivering two excellent concerts. Director David Brooks spent many hours helping young instrumentalists to develop the proper playing and marching techniques which are necessary to have an exceptional band. The concerts were highlighted by works of Tchaikowsky and Wagner which required many long hours of practice by each musician in order to provide a clear interpretation of these compositions. The end result was a masterful presentation of fine music.

MAJORETTES

Preceding the award-winning Panther Band at each parade were the Riverside majorettes. Their fluency displayed in marching and twirling was achieved by devoting many long, tedious hours in developing their skills. These "high-steppers" were not only viewed as they paraded down the avenues but also as they performed at various times during the year before Riverside audiences.

Through the proficient instruction of Head Majorette Barbara Altsman, the girls experienced a successful and noteworthy year. Among their awards, the girls took first place in a summer competition drill with other corps in Beaver and Lawrence Counties.

WIND ENSEMBLE

Making its debut this year, the wind ensemble upheld the excellent standard the Senior Band had set. By participating in the winter concert, which was given as a benefit concert for the Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh, the young musicians were able to do a service for the community. Following this event were endless hours of practice to prepare for the annual spring concert which highlighted the instrumental music year. The excellent performances presented by the group gave a new note of quality to the music department.

Excellent music was enjoyed by all at the winter concert.

With capable leadership, band rehearsal developed desire into ability to play well emotionally and technically.

Riverside was represented at the Mid-West Band Festival held at Neshannock by Carole Miller, Ted Nevin, Dave Earlin, Barry Krebs, and John Hilliard.

Mr. Brooks received invaluable assistance from Dave Earlin, student director. Derian Keefer, Dave Earlin.

DRIFTERS

Under the direction of Mr. Brooks, the Drifters practiced diligently throughout the past year to improve their talents. As musicians their repertoire included diversified compositions which satisfied the tastes of each individual. In addition to playing at various dances and P.T.A. meetings, the Drifters gave a commendable performance at the charity band concert held in December.

The Drifters added a touch of variety to the winter concert.

CONCERT CHOIR

Composed of Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors, the Concert Choir rehearsed diligently during the autumn months for the traditional yuletide program presented shortly before Christmas. Under the direction of Mrs. Mack, the group performed carols originating from various parts of the world. Then, after a brief respite, the choir began preparation for the climax of vocal music during the school year. This highlight was the annual spring concert at which the choristers rendered many types of music, from classical to contemporary, for everyone's enjoyment.

In addition to directing the choir, Mrs. Mack also led assemblies in the mass singing of the alma mater.

MIXED CHORUS

Striking a key note at Riverside this year was the Mixed Chorus. This 60-member group was composed of male and female voices from the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. Under the direction of Mrs. Mack, the chorus practiced diligently throughout the year to perform at the annual Spring Concert with the school's other vocal groups. This chorus set a fine example for students of the lower grades, showing them that through persistent work a well-balanced choral sound can be created.

Choral accompanists this year were: Marsha Yahn, Carol Zinkhan, Linda McGrew and Carol Graboski.

JUNIOR HIGH CHORUS

In preparation for their high school vocal music careers, junior high students acquired excellent training under the guidance of Mrs. Mack in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade choruses. In addition to gaining a background in vocal techniques, they spent many rehearsal hours to prepare for the concert held this spring. Their superb performance was a fine credit to Riverside's music department.

Young vocalists received valuable training through junior high school chorus participation.

SPORTS

Athletics gave students the opportunity to develop their physical abilities. Under capable guidance and with strong student support, the broad sports program offered a challenge which was enthusiastically met.

SPORTSMANSHIP, DETERMINATION

Sam Thompson exerts an added burst of energy as he snaps the tape.

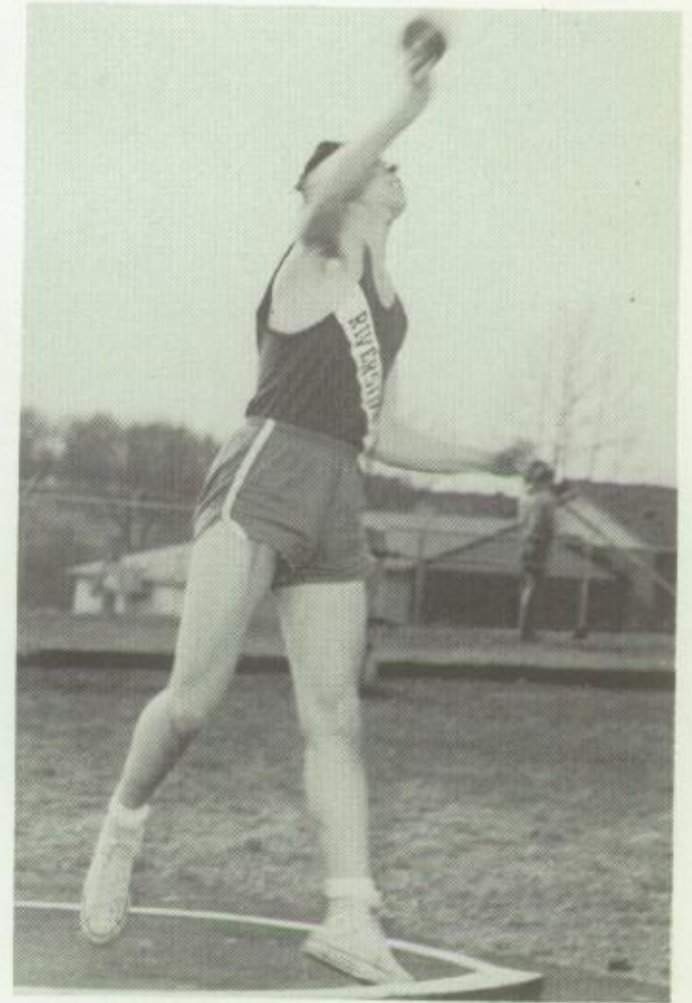

Denny Shingleton leads cross country runners on the long trail home.

EXEMPLIFIED PANTHER ATHLETES

Richards strains that extra inch for another basket as his teammates and opponents share a tense moment.

Strain is seen on Bob's face as he whirls to release the shot for a first place toss.

Tom Slavic's height and ability to get points when necessary were valuable contributions to our team's victories.

Out on a close play at home plate. Russ Clyde, George Yovich. Panthers' hustle kept them in championship competition throughout the season.

"Now that they're asleep Bill, why don't you sit down."

ALL-SPORTS BANQUET

The hustle and bustle of May was highlighted by the All-Sports Banquet. There, the cheerleaders and athletes were awarded their varsity letters for work done during the past year. Other awards presented were the "Outstanding Track Man" trophy and a trophy presented to the baseball team for past performances. Good food and entertainment accompanied the presentation of awards and gave everyone the enjoyment of a well-rounded evening of activities.

Matt McKelvey receives the Outstanding Track Man trophy.

In recognition of their service, Miss Schaas presented awards cheerleaders at the banquet.

TENNIS

Tennis was a new addition to the sports program this year. The team participated in four matches and, though losing all four, made a fine showing while gaining experience for future years. One bright spot in the season was the defeat of the Riverside faculty by the regular tennis team. Despite the record, morale was high throughout the season and the boys played each match with an all out effort. The team had one doubles set which was made up of Bob Lotz and Francis Piper, two of its best performers.

Riverside's baseball team completed the season with a fine eight win—four loss record. This was a result of the over-all ability the team possessed and the spirit with which the boys played each game. In many games the team took an early lead and held it but at times a thrilling come-from-behind effort was necessary to obtain victory. Under the capable leadership of Coach Gregor the young athletes cultivated the skills needed to compete in their section, one of the outstanding in W.P.I.A.L. competition.

"Watch that curve ball, Sam!" Coach Gregor warns Sam DeCaria.

TRACK

Constant work and unfailing spirit were the two major forces which led the track team to its best season in the history of Riverside. Coaches Lennox and Carlson are directly responsible for the honors our boys won. An example of the merit achieved by these athletes is the new W.P.I.A.L. record set by Matt McKelvey in the pole vault with a vault of twelve feet. The team completed the season with a six win—one loss record in section meets. They also did well in multiple meets by placing first in the District 1 meet, third in the Mercer and Midland Invitational meets, and fifth in the Class B W.P.I.A.L. meet.

Our Cross Country team this year completed the most successful season in the three years that it participated in the inter-scholastic sports program at Riverside. Coach William Lennox led his warriors to a fine total record of ten wins and two losses. Constant practice and vigorous physical conditioning were the two biggest factors in our thinclad's winning season.

Besides their fine won-lost record, the team placed seventh in the District Meet and took third place in the New Castle Invitational. Denny Shingleton, the team's most consistent runner, participated in the W.P.I.A.L. Meet and captured fifteenth place.

GYMNASTICS

An active gymnastics team enabled capable students to exhibit their proficient physical abilities. During the year the group, consisting of 18 girls and 12 boys, was instructed and assisted by members of the Physical Education Department.

Free exercise and workouts on the various apparatus strengthened the gymnasts and taught speed, agility, self-confidence, poise and coordination of mind and body. Their work offered each a chance to express himself and display his individual creativity.

The team's endeavors throughout the year were centered around preparation for the annual gym exhibition which was held in March.

VARSITY

Throughout the season, the Panther hoopsters compiled a record of 6 wins and 13 losses, with a 3-7 record in Section XIV play. Poor foul shooting and a third quarter "jinx" plagued the team continually and accounted for most of their defeats; but, though the won-lost record was disappointing, the Panthers' supporters witnessed a thrilling brand of basketball from start to finish in each game. Coach Novalesi did a commendable job in turning the group of athletes into an organized team and instilled in them the importance of determination and sportsmanship. In each game the boys played their best until the final buzzer sounded. A symbol of their clean play is the Good Sportsmanship Trophy presented to the team at the Beaver Falls Rotary Tournament.

During the halftime interlude the boys receive second-half instructions from Coach Novalesi.

With a new coach, Mr. William Melfi, at the helm, the junior varsity basketball team posted a season record of 6 wins and 14 defeats, with quite a few games being decided by a small point margin. This record did not dim the spirit of these Panthers. Their never failing determination to win and their enthusiastic play always made for an exciting game. The team can rightly be proud of itself for upholding the Riverside tradition of good sportsmanship throughout the cage season.

The fans weren't the only excited spectators. Coach Melfi communicates a vehement message to his team.

All hands on the ball as the Panthers fight for a rebound.

BOWLING

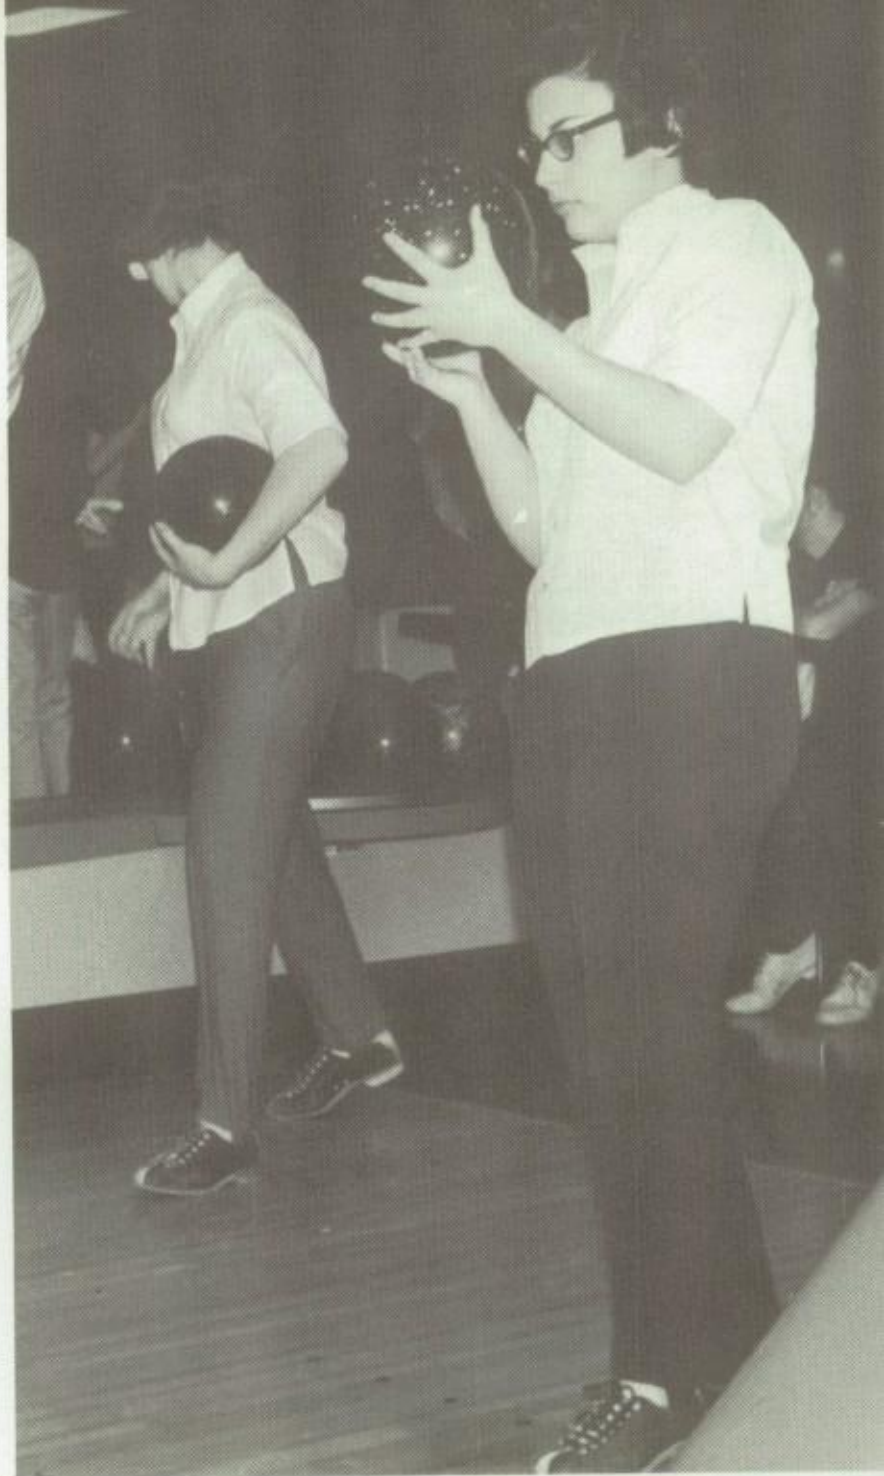

Each Saturday morning this year the ten teams of Riverside's Bowling League met to compete for the league championship. Highlights of the year were the Christmas Singles and New Year's Doubles Tournaments. In recognition of these achievements, at the end of the year the top two teams, the two high average boy bowlers, and the girl with the highest average received trophies. Perfect attendance awards and a trophy for the most improved bowlers were also given. At the close of the season the top five bowlers met the faculty team in competition and as usual had an overwhelming victory.

Holiday tournament winners were: Richard Bodak and Jim Dripps, Doubles Champions; Tom Hall, Boy's Singles Champion; Sharon Walsh, Girl's Singles Champion. The Saturday morning activity was supervised by Mr. Young.

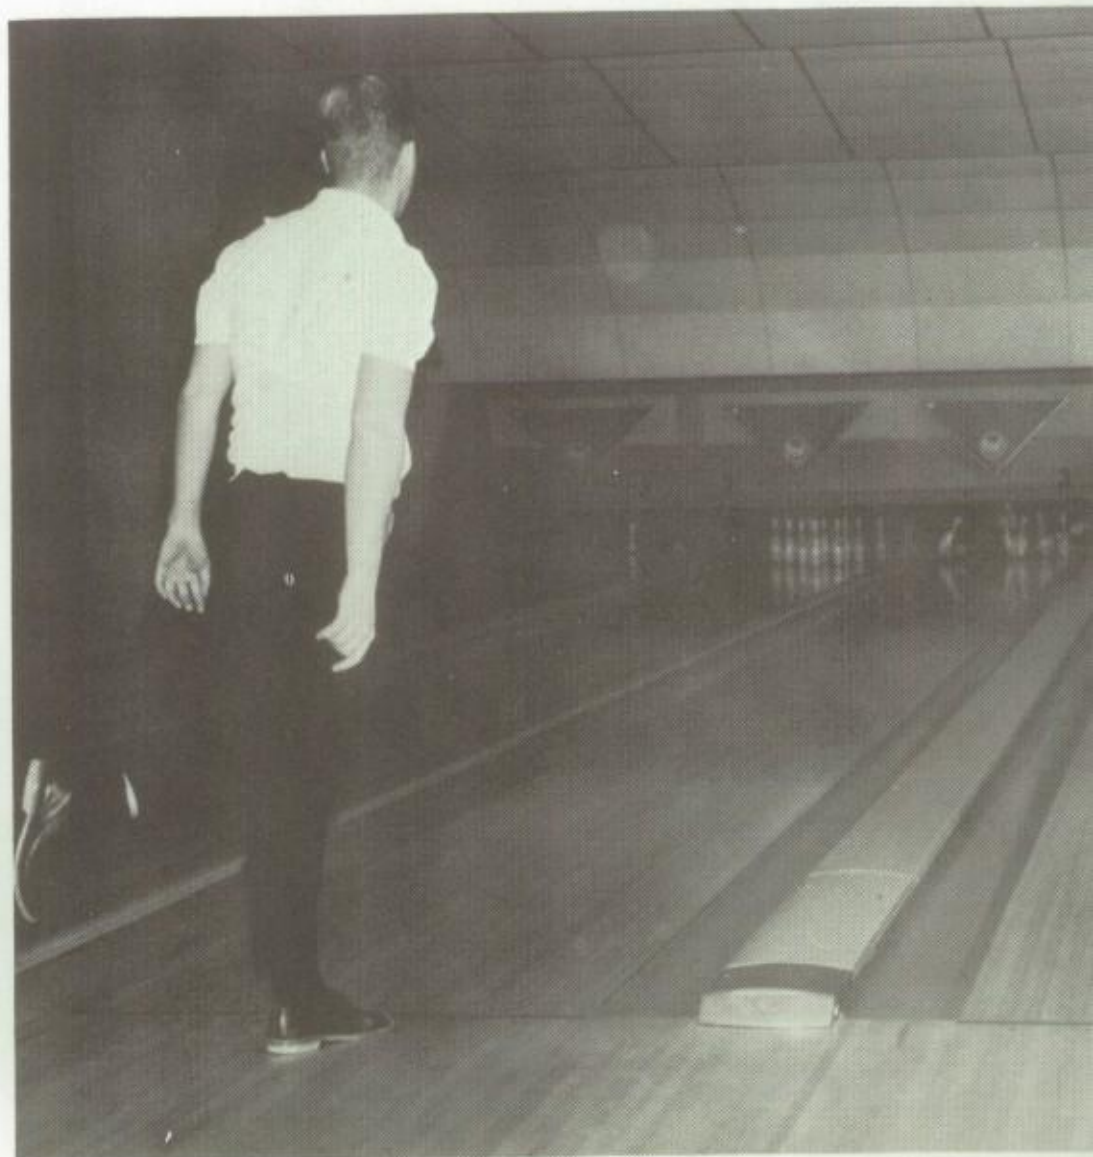

Richard Bodak, first bowler to have a six hundred series, displays his fine delivery.

CLASS OF 1965

With mixed emotions the class of '65 depart from Riverside, never to return again as students. After twelve long years of study we have attained our goal of receiving a diploma, but the hours of study are diminutive to the many memories that Riverside gave us—class plays . . . exciting athletic events . . . dances . . . lifelong friendships, each carries with it a special meaning for the individual student.

SENIOR DIRECTORY

"... are dismissed."

AS THE YEAR DRAWS TO A CLOSE

ALMA MATER

Dear Riverside in tribute now a song we sing to you,
To show we're proud to be a part of something fair and true,
Hail Alma Mater of our school, we sing with lasting pride,
To fail you not, when days here end, will be our timely stride.

Though shadows fall and doubts are cast, our faith is ever strong,
You'll stand beside us all the while, the journey rough and long.
While gaining priceless knowledge here along with friendships true,

We'll always have a loyal thought, "Dear Riverside" for you.

The years may come and years may go, but thoughts remain anew,

Of all the memories we will share "Dear Riverside" with you.
With loyalty and faith so strong in ways we know as right, We'll cherish all our long lived days, the precious green and white.

WE LOOK TO THE FUTURE

As the 1964-65 school year draws to a close, we pause to reflect upon the memories it now holds for us. For seniors who are completing their high school careers, it is a time of beginning — viewing the world with eyes of maturity. To the underclassmen, this year was one of exploring ideals and discovering goals. The personal growth students have gained throughout the past nine months cannot be stated in definite terms. The physical, social, intellectual, and cultural aspects of each student's life were explained and then altered. And so, as we ponder these thoughts we turn the final pages of the 1965 Pathfinder and look forward to the future.

June 9, 1965

Dear Linda,

Now that it's time to write, I don't know what to say. So many memories come back to me. Remember our pencil collection in second grade(?) as well as our other fun. Throughout our high school years we have shared so many good times I don't know where to begin. First of all, the classes we've shared - how could any one forget Latin and this year the fun and frolic of Spanish class. Please don't forget our other fun either.

Your friendship has meant more than I'll ever be able to tell. The many talks we have shared will always have a special place in my heart. I hope our friendship will grow even though our paths are beginning to part. May you always climb the highest of all mountains until you reach the success which you have strived for. I hope your college years at Koster are very happy.

Finally remember our senior year and all of its heartache and finally triumph that we both made it - graduation night. Remember Innie Get Your Gun and the wonderful technical work we did. Always remember our birthday crowd and the many other things we did together. Now this is all over and we are ready to make new beginnings. May we never waver in our friendship and may we always "keep track of one another." As I finally end this epistle, I would again wish you every success and happiness. I don't think I can say anymore.

Love,
Mary

Romans 12:1

Linda,

It's been a long wonderful time hasn't it?
You have been a very sweet girl and I know that you will always remain the same. You have remained that "unusual girl" for a long time. Always remember our wonderful 10th grade history class. It was a ball wasn't it? I hope you will write to me while you are in college. I will miss you because of all the fun that we had together. Well this is about all. Always remember me because I will always remember you. How could I forget you? Always have a fun time.

RMF
Len

P.S. Don't forget our picnic this summer if we ever get together.

Kinda,
The very best of luck to a really sweet girl. Remember all the fun we had together. Be good and keep smiling!
R.M.A.
Sherian

Linda,
May you always have the best of luck
in everything you attempt please remember all the fun we've had. Please don't forget me because
I'll never forget you
R. May
